

Goblin menu

There were pinecone truffles, sweet sap sorbets, nettle fritters and the finest pollen-puddings. In the centre was an enormous cake covered in long-grass icing and, on the top, over a hundred candles burned brightly.

Design a menu for another goblin party – it could be a Christmas party, an anniversary or any celebration you can think of. Can you design your party menu for a certain type of goblin and think carefully what they would eat, e.g., would a Cave Goblin eat something different to a Fire Goblin?
